

Teacher: Gil

Class: B1

Writing

The famous poem “The Road Not Taken” by Robert Frost tells us that no matter how we decide to go, it is impossible to foresee where it will lead us, nor how the other way would have been. Life is about choices, so we shouldn’t regret the road not taken. How could you, using your personal experience, support or not this idea?

