

Directions: Listen to the audio as many times as you need to, and then fill in the blanks.

Italy is _____ a program offering _____ taxi rides to _____ who are too drunk to _____ . The program is being run by the transport _____ , and is _____ reducing the number of alcohol-related traffic _____ in the country. Driving while drunk is a " _____ problem" in Italy, _____ a 2020 report by the European Transport Safety _____ . Italy's drunk driving _____ is 0.5 grams of alcohol per liter of blood for _____ drivers, and zero grams for those who have been driving for _____ three years, or drivers under 21.

Anyone found _____ while drunk can receive a _____ of up to around $2,100. _____ drivers may also be _____ for up to 18 months, and have their car _____ . But despite these _____ , a third of Italians _____ they drive while over the _____ limit. The free taxi program is currently being _____ at six nightclubs around Italy, and will _____ until mid-September. When partygoers _____ to be drunk when leaving the _____ , they will take an _____ test. If they are over the limit, a taxi, _____ by the government, will take them home.

At Il Muretto, one of the nightclubs _____ the program, 21 people were _____ home in taxis on the first night. "It's a _____ idea," Il Muretto's _____ said to Italian newspaper Il Gazzettino. "People come to nightclubs to have _____ and forget their problems, and they may drink too much. The taxis are _____ to take them home _____." But not everyone is _____ the program, and some people _____ on social media that it unfairly _____ people who drink too much. "This will just mean people are going to _____ drunk just to get a free _____ home," one person said.