First, he's a very knowledgeable person. He travelled a lot during his younger years. I know he has encountered various problems, so he has lots of valuable experience and life lessons to pass on to his children and grandchildren. I remember when I first started learning to ride a bike, I fell off my bike several times. Every time I fell, I just wanted to give up, but he told me, 'No matter how hard a situation is, never give up. If you fail, that's okay! If you put your heart into whatever you're doing, you can do anything'. What he said is so inspirational and means so much to me.
