

Task 1: Read and answer the questions.The River Nile

This is the longest river in the world at 6650 km in length. When most people think of the River Nile they think of Egypt, however only 20% of the river actually flows through Egypt. The river also flows through countries such as Uganda and Ethiopia, beginning in Burundi in central Africa.

The river Nile helps to make the nearby land fertile. The ancient Egyptians started living and farming along this river in order to produce food for themselves and their animals. The river became an important source of water and means of transport too. The River Nile flows into the Mediterranean Sea.
