

Intentions of the speaker

| | | | | |
|---------------------|------------------------|---------------------|--------------------|--------------------|
| to apologize | to challenge | to comfort | to complain | to describe |
| to encourage | to enquire | to entertain | to inform | to persuade |
| to recommend | to tell a story | to thank | to warn | to welcome |

| | |
|--|--|
| 1. Hi, could you please tell me what time the show starts? And which room? | |
| 2. Hello, come on in and take a seat. We are grateful for having you here on our grand opening day. We hope you find it enjoyable. | |
| 3. Please come with me. The movie is brilliant and they have chocolate popcorn there, which is amazing. Come on, I'll pay for both of us. I don't want to go on my own. | |
| 4. This is the worst salad I've ever tried. The veggie is soggy and the dressing is way too sweet, it's more of a dessert. I can't believe it. Can I speak to the chef? | |
| 5. It's my fault. I shouldn't have said such a horrible thing about your wife. Please forgive me, it won't happen again, I promise. | |
| 6. My new bike costs me only $200, I know, what a bargain right? It's made of aluminum and steel, with a leather seat. The handles are made of copper. | |
| 7. Last night when I was going home, I saw a man breaking into my house. I freaked out and screamed at the top of my lungs. He freaked out too, so he ran off. | |
| 8. I hope you know that without you, I couldn't have survived the pandemic. You saved my life. | |
| 9. Is he out of his mind? Tell him to come back here and have a face-to-face talk to me like a real man. I bet he'll chicken out. | |
| 10. Don't cry. I'm sure you will find another job soon. Things won't be easy nowadays to find a good job with good pay and benefits. | |
| 11. If I were you, I would never get too close to the monkey cage. They can grab and hurt you badly. It's dangerous. | |
| 12. I'm so glad we have brown cows, otherwise we won't have any chocolate milk. | |
| 13. We can't give up when we are so close to the top of the mountain. If we gave up now, one day when we look back, just imagine how much we would regret. | |
| 14. I think the new restaurant is the best option for your first date. It's cozy and warm. I tried their pizzas, they tasted incredible. Besides, it will save you a lot of money. | |