

Can and Could

We use can when we talk about an ability to do something or make a request. We add not to make a negative statement. The contraction of cannot is can't.

I can speak three different languages: Korean, English, and French.
I can't speak German.

Can I borrow your pen?

The past of can is could. The negative form of could is could not. The contraction of could not is couldn't.

The room was too dark, so I couldn't find the switch.

I could speak two different languages when I was five.

A. Check ✓ your own answers.

1. Can you speak English?

 Yes, I can. No, I cannot.

2. Can you dance?

 Yes, I can. No, I cannot.

3. Can you bake a cake?

 Yes, I can. No, I cannot.B. Rewrite the sentences using the past form of can.

1. I cannot get up early.

→ I could not get up early.

2. He cannot eat spinach.

→ _____

3. They can hear the radio.

→ _____

4. She can call him.

→ _____

C. Write three things you can do well and three things you cannot do well.

I can ...

I cannot ...