

LAKE OF FIRE

REST - LADY - MOON – CRY – DIE - FRY

Where do bad folks go when they _____?

They don't go to Heaven where the angels fly

They go to the lake of fire and _____

See 'em again 'til the fourth of July!

I knew a _____ who came from Duluth

Bit by a dog with a rabid tooth

She went to her grave just a little too soon

Flew away howling on the yellow _____

Where do bad folks go when they _____?

They don't go to Heaven where the angels fly

They go down to the lake of fire and fry

See 'em again 'til the fourth of July

People _____ and people moan

Look for a dry place to call their home

Try to find some place to _____ their bones

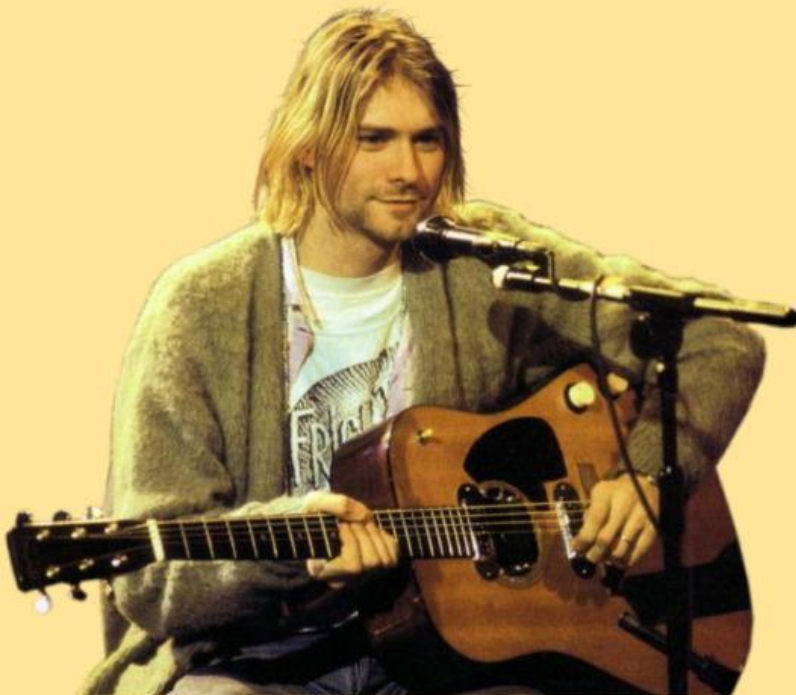

While the angels and the devils try to make them their own

Where do bad folks go when they _____?

They don't go to Heaven where the angels fly

They go down to the lake of fire and fry

See 'em again 'til the fourth of July

Nirvana was an American rock band formed in Aberdeen, Washington, in 1987. Founded by lead singer and guitarist Kurt Cobain and bassist Krist Novoselic, the band went through a succession of drummers, most notably Chad Channing, before recruiting Dave Grohl in 1990.

"Lake of Fire" is a song by the American alternative rock band the Meat Puppets.[3] It appears on their 1984 album Meat Puppets II and also appears as a hidden track on their 1994 album Too High to Die.

The Meat Puppets have played this song at most of their concerts, and even after the Meat Puppets, Curt Kirkwood has performed this song himself at most of his concerts.

"Lake of Fire" was notably covered by Nirvana on MTV Unplugged, in 1993.
