

Anansi and Horse

*Drag the sentences into the correct order

He said that another man had come and stolen all the plantains except four.

Horse agreed to share the left over four plantains with Anansi.

While horse was gone, Anansi made a fire. He cooked and ate most of the plantains.

Anansi and Horse cut plantains.

Then Anansi asked Horse to fetch a lighted stick to start a fire.

When Horse returned, Anansi told him that a man had helped him make a fire.
