

A. Watch and repeat.

Jerry and his family went camping. They had a lot of problems. They got to the campsite. They sat down and drank some juice. They were happy. They chose a beautiful camping spot. Jerry went to park his car. He felt his pocket for his keys. The keys weren't there. He spent an hour looking for them. He thought he lost his keys. He found his keys in the car. They set up a tent. They read the instructions. They understood nothing. A man came to help them. Jerry brought matches and lit a fire to cook hotdogs. The hotdogs burnt but they ate it. They slept in the tent. Mosquitoes bit them and they woke up. On Saturday, they swam in the lake. They had so much fun. Later on that day, Jerry went out in a canoe with his daughter but she fell into the lake. She knew how to swim. She got back and she caught a big fish. On the same night, Jerry heard a noise outside the tent. He went out and saw something large and hairy. It was a bear. They forgot the hotdogs next to the fire. Jerry ran to the forest to save his life and he hid behind a tree. He felt so happy that he was safe. Jerry knew nothing about camping.
