Ryan's blog
Summer camp: Day One

5:30 p.m.

It's the first day of summer camp! We're near some mountains, and I can't imagine being anywhere more beautiful. Everyone's very friendly.

I got up at five o'clock this morning. Mom and Dad took me to the train station by car. I met one of the group leaders at the train station and then I said goodbye to my parents. I thought it was a pretty long journey (four hours) but that's nothing – some people were on a plane for ten hours! When our train arrived, we met more campers and the other group leaders, and then we all came here by pickup truck. It was fun!

We had to learn the camp rules. We mustn't go into the forest without telling someone, we have to clean our rooms every morning before breakfast, we mustn't leave trash anywhere, and we have to go to bed at 9:00 p.m.

There are lots of fun activities, like swimming, bike riding, and playing games. Everybody has to do two morning activities and one afternoon activity every day. But right now (4:30 p.m.–5:30 p.m.) it's "free time" and I don't have to do anything, so I can write this blog on my phone.

Tomorrow, we're learning survival skills. Then, on Friday, we don't have to go to bed at 9:00 p.m. because we're going on a night hike. We have to build a shelter outdoors, make a fire, cook together, and then sleep in the shelter. Awesome!

9:30 p.m.

Tonight, we had to go into the forest and collect wood for the campfire. It was hard work! Then we cooked dinner on the fire. Three people had to do the dishes – Jim, Ella, and Casey. Not me! ☺ I must sleep now. I'm very tired and we have to get up at 6:30 tomorrow morning. ☹
