All About Dinosaurs

Dinosaurs were alive millions of years ago when they ruled the Earth. People who study dinosaur are alled paleontologists. We learn a lot about dinosaurs through the findings of fossils that have been put back together to see how dinosaurs looked. There were many different kinds of dinosaurs, including Triceratos and Tyrannasarus Rex, before they all extinct or are no longer living.

Triceratos was a dinosaur with three horns on its head. Those three horns were used to protect the triceratos from the other dinosaurs, such as the Tyrannasarus Rex. The triceratos was also known for its large skull body. It's was a plant eating dinosaur, a herbivorce.

The Tyrannasarus Rex was a huge dinosaur that was known for being very violent. It had only two legs, a huge head and a heavy, long tail. Although the arms of a Tyrannasarus Rex were small, they were very strong and had two claws on each hand.
