Somebody's at the door. I'll see who it is.

I will help you to carry these bags, they look heavy.

Look at the clouds. There's going to be a thunderstorm.

I'll phone you later.

2 Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- 1 We'll / We're going to see Coldplay in concert next weekend. Jon's getting the tickets tonight.
- 2 I'm too tired to cook dinner – will you / are you going to do it tonight?
- 3 Dad will / is going to go to the dentist after work today. He told me this morning.
- 4 Jessica won't / isn't going to invite lots of people to her party. She just wants to be with her best friends.
- 5 The phone's ringing – I'll / I'm going to get it.

3 Read the rules here! Write 6 sentences about yourself using probably and definitely.

LOOK OUT!

We can make predictions and plans more certain or uncertain by adding definitely or probably. Pay attention to the position of the adverb.

I'll definitely / probably apply for a summer job.
I definitely / probably won't earn very much.
I'm definitely / probably (not) going to travel.

7 Read the Look out! box. Then make notes about your own future. Write down:

- a job you will probably do some time in the future.
- a job you will definitely never do.
- something you're probably going to eat this evening.
- something you're definitely not going to do this evening.
- something you're probably going to buy soon.
- a place you will probably visit this year.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

4 Rewrite the sentences, adding probably or definitely.

1. Toby won't become a doctor because he isn't keen on blood.

2. We're going to watch a film at school today – if we finish our project work.

3. Darren is going to tell the truth – he's always very honest.

4. I think I'll buy a new dress for the party, but it depends how much money I've got.

5. You aren't going to find the new Phillip Pullman book at the bookshop today. It isn't available until next month.
