

Q. Read the paragraph and answer the questions that follow.

Animals are living things that can move around. There are many different kinds of animals, including dogs, cats, birds, fish, and insects. Animals live in all different parts of the world, from the highest mountains to the deepest oceans. Animals are important to our planet. They also provide us with food, such as meat, eggs, and milk. We should all help to protect animals. We can do this by not littering in their habitats and by not harming them. We can also support organizations that work to protect animals.
