

Talking about things of the past and how they are in the present.

When I was in high school the pandemic of COVID began. Everyone stayed at home. We were in quarantine. I had online classes. When you went to the store, there were hand sanitizer everywhere. We always washed our hands returning home. People wore facial masks. Until we all got vaccinated.

Today, I go to school to have face to face classes. We don't have social distancing anymore. Often, I go out to walk. We don't wear facial masks anymore. I go to work. I use hand sanitizer from time to time. And I'm happy and glad for surviving this unfortunate event.
