Dear Family Club,

I have read about the family tree\day program in your site.

I am writing because I would like that my family\friends join your program.

And also because my grandparents\teachers would love to check their family heritage and find out how many relatives\parents we have around the world.

Our family name is Donatti. Like\How many other Italian families, we are very close and look like\likes each other. We have the same round nose\arm and talk with our hands.

So, we we'd love to find other members of the big Donatti family\people to check our heritage.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

Chloe Donatti

- 3 Read this fragment of the text Who's in a family?. Write T (true) or F (false) for the sentences.

A family can be made up in many different ways. Families are made up of people and animals have families too.

In Carlos' family, Carlos' papá helps him with his homework, and his mamá reads to his little sisters, Teresa and Linda.

Katie is an only child. When Katie's family goes camping, she sometimes gets to take along her friend, Amy.
