'I was lucky. I had the chance of going to New York on a student exchange.

I'm even interested in a job there. I've often dreamt of to another country.

I really like the idea of in a big city office' in New York – and I needn't worry about the language. At first I might be a bit scared of alone without friends, but I could always visit my exchange family. I'm quite good at friends and I'd have the chance of lots of new people at work. I'd soon find out about a sports club or a youth group. I'd never be tired of in the city that never sleeps.'
