____ / 10

Today a new boy joined our class. His name's Harry and he lived in London, England, before he came here. He's ten years old, but all the other students in our class are eleven. Harry's got short, curly, fair hair. He's not very tall. He's shorter than the other students in our class. I think he's friendly and he seems confident. Our teacher loves Harry because he's very polite.

Harry's a really good student. He can count to 100 in Spanish, French and Italian! His favourite subject is Science and he's good at doing experiments. He's also great at playing football and juggling, but he's terrible at making pizza and baking a cake. Some of Harry's toys are broken, but I can help him because I'm really good at fixing toys. He's not good at that. I can look at his toys when I go to his house.
