

MATCH THE CONCEPT WITH ITS CORRESPONDING DEFINITION.

	Mammal
	Dinosaur
	Bacteria
	Reptile
	Insect
	Arthropod
	Amphibian

organisms not able to be seen except under a microscope, found in rotting matter, in air, in soil and in living bodies, some being the germs of disease

a very large type of animal that used to live millions of years ago an animal whose body is covered with scales and whose blood changes temperature any member of the class of animals (including man) in which the females feed the young with their own milk a type of animal with no spine, a hard outer skin, legs with bones joined together, and a body divided into different parts, for example a spider, crab, or ant an animal that lives both on land and in water but must produce its eggs in water a small creature with six legs, for example a bee or a fly