

STAGES OF LIFE

- a. Humans have four stages of growth and development.
- b. These stages of life are infancy, childhood, adolescence, adulthood and old age.
- c. Adults are completely dependent of their parents. In this period, we learn to walk and talk.
- d. Children have some independence. They can put on their cloths and they can read and drive cars.
- e. Teenagers are very independent but they still need their parents.
- f. Adults are fully developed mentally, physically and emotionally. This allows them to become parents.
- g. In old age the reproductive system works very well.