

COMPREHENSION TEST ON THE VIDEO ABOUT THE FILM REVIEWS

1. What is the purpose of a movie review?

- a. To retell the entire plot of the film
- b. To provide a detailed analysis of the filming techniques
- c. To share personal opinions and feelings about the movie
- d. To give a general overview of the actors and filmmakers involved

2. How should you approach writing a movie review?

- a. By focusing only on the main characters and their storylines
- b. By analyzing the film in terms of its theme, music, and special effects
- c. By watching the movie once and relying solely on your initial impressions
- d. By making your review as objective and brief as possible

3. What should you keep in mind when writing a movie review?

- a. To write a detailed summary of the entire film
- b. To avoid sharing any personal opinions or emotions
- c. To entertain readers with an engaging writing style
- d. To refrain from giving any recommendations to potential viewers

4. Why is it important to make notes while watching a movie for review?

- a. To help you remember the main plot points of the film
- b. To keep track of your personal emotions while watching the movie
- c. To ensure you have enough material to write a lengthy review
- d. To jot down any interesting details or ideas that come to mind

5. What should you research about a movie before writing a review?

- a. The personal lives of the actors involved in the film
- b. The overall box office success of the movie
- c. The director's previous works and filming techniques used
- d. The opinions of other professional critics about the film

6. How should you analyze a movie in your review?

- a. By comparing it to other films in the same genre or with similar themes
- b. By focusing only on the performance of the lead actor or actress
- c. By disregarding any social or cultural context portrayed in the film
- d. By providing a general impression without any specific examples

7. Why is it important to have a review outline before writing?

- a. To ensure your review is well-structured and easy to follow
- b. To include every single detail about the movie in your review
- c. To avoid analyzing the filmmaking techniques in the review
- d. To make your review as short and concise as possible

8. How should you approach writing the title for your movie review?

- a. By using a simple and straightforward title like "My Review of [Film Title]"
- b. By including intriguing or thought-provoking elements in the title
- c. By using a title that only focuses on the actors and filmmakers involved
- d. By avoiding catchy titles and using generic ones instead

9. What should you include in the main body of your movie review?

- a. Your personal emotional response while watching the film
- b. A complete retelling of the film's plot, including all spoilers
- c. Your analysis of the creative and technical elements of the film
- d. A comparison of the film with other unrelated movies in different genres

10. Why is it important to edit your final draft before submitting your review?

- a. To ensure your review aligns with the professor's specific formatting requirements
- b. To check for spelling errors, grammar mistakes, and overall coherence
- c. To make your review longer and include more details
- d. To remove any personal opinions and focus solely on objective analysis