

Name: _____

Score: _____

Date: _____

Weekly Reading Quiz – Q2:1

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. "If we put up posters, then anyone can find Wilbur," Said Li-Jun.Ty looked at him strangely, "That's kind of the point."Why did Ty look at Li-Jun strangely? a. Ty was frustrated Li-Jun didn't like his posters.b. Ty was worried he wouldn't get his share of the reward money.c. Ty was confused about why Li-Jun wouldn't want anyone to find Wilbur.d. Ty was worried about Wilbur and wanted to start looking right away. | 2. According to the text, what is the meaning of the word, unassuaged?Unassuaged by his one-word answer, Jayla pressed on. "You're obviously looking for something. What is it?" a. to be unsatisfiedb. to be angryc. to be thrilledd. to be concerned                                                                                                                                                |
| 3. What inference can you make about Jayla based on the text? a. She is a selfish person because she did not want to help look for Wilbur without receiving reward money.b. She is a caring person because she helped look for Wilbur and got more people to help, too.c. She is a bully because she insisted Li-Jun tell her what he was looking for.d. She is unprepared because she did not bring as many supplies as Elinor.             | 4. Which of the following lines from the text proves that Li-Jun felt guilty about not telling his friends about the reward? a. "Li-Jun perused the 'Missing Kitten' poster. There was no mention of the reward."b. "Li-Jun closed his eyes, too embarrassed to look at them when he admitted his omission."c. "Ugh, fifty divided by two is twenty-five."d. "If we put up posters, then anyone can find Wilbur." |
| 5. Read the story, "Finding Wilbur". Write a journal entry from Li-Jun's point of view explaining the events of the day. Focus on the lesson he learned and the impact of that lesson. Cite evidence from the text in the journal entry.                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |