

THE SOUTH KOREAN COSTUME

HANBOK

Jeogori (저고리): is the upper garment, a jacket or blouse with sleeves. It is usually worn over a undergarment.

Chima (치마): The chima is a full, high-waisted, wrap-around . It is secured ties or .

Baji (바지): These are the worn the chima for men. Women typically wear jeogori and chima baji.

Po (포): The po is a of attached to the jeogori's cuffs. It hangs and is adorned with various .

Gat (갓): Traditionally, men wore a hat called a gat, is of horsehair with a silk cover. , hats are not as commonly worn in modern .

Norigae (노리개): These are ornaments or pendants that hang the ribbon of the jeogori. They are considered and add an of to the hanbok.

