The Faim

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Faim are a four-piece band from Perth, Australia. The band consists of singer Josh Raven, bassist/keyboardist Stephen Beerkens, guitarist Samuel Tye and drummer Linden Marissen.[1] The band released their debut EP Summer Is a Curse in 2018 and have signed an international deal with BMG Rights Management.[2]

History [edit]

2014–2017: Formation and recognition [edit]

The band was formed in Perth while some of the group members were still attending high school.[3] They met in their music class and decided to form the band with their previous name being Small Town Heroes.[4][5] Seven months later Sean joined after they found him on YouTube.[6]
