Mrs Jones lost her purse. A policeman is asking her questions. Look at Mrs Jones' answers, then write them using emphatic structures.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 "Who did you go shopping with?"
"My husband."
It was my husband who/that I went shopping with. | 4 "Are you sure that you left it there?"
"Yes, I left it there." |
| 2 "Where did you leave your purse?"
"At the grocer's." | 5 "How much money was in your purse?"
"About fifty pounds and my bank card." |
| 3 "When did you realise you'd left it there?"
"An hour ago." | 6 "Did you cancel your bank card?"
"Yes, just before I saw you." |

Listen and repeat. Then act out.

Inversion

There are two ways to invert the subject and the verb:

A. auxiliary verb/modal + subject + main verb

- in questions Is she working tomorrow?
- after certain expressions when they are at the beginning of a sentence

Seldom	Little	In/Under no circumstances	Only in this way
Rarely	Barely	Never	Only by
Scarcely (ever) ... when	Nowhere	Never before	Nor/Neither
Hardly (ever) ... when	Not till/until	Not since	Only then
No sooner ... than	On no occasion	Not (even) once
Not only ... but (also)	In no way	On no account

Rarely do we see him these days. No sooner had we got into the house than he phoned us.

NOTE: When the following expressions begin a sentence, we use inversion in the main clause.

only after, only by, only if, only when, not till/until, not since

Only after he had graduated, did he start looking for a job.

Only if you invite her, will she come to your party.

Not until all tests had been completed, were we told the results.

- after so, such, to such a degree (in result clauses) when they are at the beginning of a sentence

So careful is he that he never makes any mistakes.

Such a brilliant student was he that he was offered a scholarship.

- with should, were, had in conditionals at the beginning of the sentence when “if” is omitted

Type 1: Should you see him, tell him to call me. (= If you should see ...)*

Type 2: Were I you, I would cancel my trip. (= If I were you ...)*

Type 3: Had he known, he would have made arrangements. (= If he had known ...)*

- after so, neither/nor, as when expressing agreement

“I hate horror films.” So do I. (“So” is used to agree with an affirmative statement.)

“Jane hasn’t returned our calls.” Neither/Nor has her husband.” (“Neither/Nor” is used to agree with a negative statement.)

His colleagues respected him as did his boss. (“as did” is used to show both his boss and his colleagues respected him.)

B. main verb + subject

- after adverbs of place

Here comes the bride! Away ran the thief!*

- in Direct Speech when the reporting verb comes after the quote and the subject is a noun

*“I’ve never seen him,” said Helen.

9 Fill in the gaps, expressing agreement.

1 A: I have watched the latest Star Trek film.

B: So ... have I ... It was great!

2 A: I didn’t enjoy the concert last night.

B: Nor ... The band was terrible.

3 A: We are going to London this weekend.

B: So ... We could meet you there.

4 A: I can’t stand the crowds in the city centre.

B: Neither ... It’s far too busy.

5 A: I always go skiing in winter.

B: So ... It’s really enjoyable.

6 A: I’m not going out tonight.

B: Nor ... I’m too tired.

10 Nathan Cooper is the manager of a professional basketball team which is going to play in the cup final next week. He is talking to his players about keeping his plans for the game secret. Put the verbs in brackets into the correct form.

Under no circumstances 1) should you tell (you/should/tell) any journalists about our tactics for the cup final and in no way 2) must we give (you/must/give) the other team any clues about which players we will choose to start the game. Not until after the game 3) will we be able to (you/will/be able to) talk to reporters. Only in this way 4) will our plan be (our plan/will/be) a success. If you all follow these orders, not only 5) will we have (we/will/have) a good chance of victory on Saturday, but you will also be given some time off after the game.

Look at the following text and write inverted sentences using the words/phrases in bold.

George Crum invented crisps in 1853. Crum worked as a chef in a restaurant in Saratoga Springs, New York. Crum rarely got complaints about his cooking, but one customer was never happy with the food he received.

Crum's crisps were on no occasion good enough for him. The crisps were not only too oily but also they were not salty enough. To make the customer happy, Crum tried something new. He sliced the potatoes as thinly as possible, fried them, and added salt. The customer had no sooner tried the new snack than Crum knew it was something important. Crum and the customer had never been so happy before!

These days, crisps are one of the most popular snack foods in the world.

Speaking Activity

(narrating a story - tense revision)

Last week, a group of students from the school photography club went on a safari. In pairs, look at the pictures and describe the scenes. Say where they were, what they did, what they could see, hear or smell, and how they were feeling. Use past tenses.

- A: It was a beautiful day for a safari. The sun was shining and the birds were singing.
B: The students were travelling by jeep in the Africa bush.

Writing Activity

Imagine you are one of the students who went on the safari in the Speaking Activity above. Write a diary entry describing your day.

Dear Diary,

Today, I went on a safari with the photography club. When we set off in the morning, the sun was shining and the birds were singing.
