

Modal Verbs

3

Listen and repeat. Then act out.

- The modal verbs are: can, could, may, might, must, ought to, will, would, shall, and should. They do not take -s in the third person singular. He can ride fast. They come before the subject in questions and are followed by 'not' in negations. "Could I leave now?" "I'm afraid you can't leave." The modal verbs are followed by an infinitive without to except for 'ought to'. She could leave early but she really ought to stay till the end. Each modal verb normally has more than one use. Shall I help you with the dishes? (offer) Shall we go out tonight? (suggestion)
- Certain verbs or expressions have virtually the same meaning as some modals. These are: need (= must), had better (= should), have to/have got to (= must), be able to (= can), used to (= would), etc. I have got to hurry to catch the bus. (= I must hurry.)
- We use modal verbs to express: ability, advice, criticism, logical assumptions, necessity, offers, obligation/duty, permission, possibility, probability, prohibition, requests or suggestions.

Can/May – Be allowed to (permission)

- We use can and be allowed to to refer to laws or regulations.
People can't/aren't allowed to smoke in the building.
- There is a difference in meaning between may and be allowed to in questions.
Study the examples.
- a) May I use your phone? (= Will you allow me to use your phone?)
- b) Are we allowed to use the phone? (= Does the rule permit it?)

5 Fill in: May I or Am I allowed to.

- 1 May I ask you the time?
- 2 feed the animals in the zoo?
- 3 keep pets in my flat?
- 4 see what you're reading?
- 5 help you with that suitcase?
- 6 make personal phone calls?

Can – Could – Was able to (ability)

- Can expresses ability in the present and future. Could expresses ability in the past. The verb can is used only in the present or future and could in the past. We use be able to to form all the other tenses. He could climb up mountains before he had an accident. He can't climb mountains now but he had been able to do so before his accident.
- Was able to (= managed to) is used to express ability in the past for either single or repeated actions. He was able to reach Brighton before midnight. (single action) (NOT: ~~could~~)
- Could is used in statements to express general ability in the past for repeated actions. She could/was able to read when she was four. (could/was able to are both correct)
However with feel, hear, see, smell, understand, etc. we normally use could for single actions. I could hear a noise coming from the dining room. (single action) (NOT: ~~was able to~~)
- Could/Was able to are both used in negations and questions for either single or repeated actions. They weren't able to/couldn't win the race. (single action) Could you/Were you able to drive a car when you were fifteen? (repeated action – general ability in the past).
