5 Where we live

Reading identifying the main message; multiple choice with five short texts

1 Read the Exam Reminder. When can you decide that an answer option is wrong?

_____

2 Read and complete the Exam Task.

Exam REMINDER

Identifying the main message

- Remember to read the texts first and think about where you would see them and what type of text each one is.
- Then look at the answer options and underline any key words.
- Read the texts again and look for similar information to the words you underlined. If you can't find any similar information in the text, that answer won't be the right option.
- Finally, check the information for the answer options you thought were possible and choose the one which answers that question best.
