

Fill the gaps with the verbs in the present or past form.
Which verbs indicate ACTION and which - STATE?

'John me with a book,' I said. 'I him. And I you too!'

'You a bad girl, Jane,' my aunt 'Why do you hate me?'

'You don't like me,' I 'John and Eliza are unkind to me. I to leave Gateshead Hall.'

'You to leave!' Aunt Reed said. 'Where will you go? Your parents dead. You live alone.'
Aunt Reed for a moment.

'My friend, Mr. Brocklehurst, the owner of a school,' she 'I will send you to Mr. Brocklehurst's school.'

Fill the gaps with appropriate word.

A few days later, Mr. Brocklehurst came Gateshead Hall. He was a very tall man. His eyes were dark and his face was .

'Jane Eyre,' he said me. 'God does not like bad children. God punishes bad children, Jane Eyre.'

'God will punish John Reed,' I replied. 'John Reed hits and he shouts me.'

'That is not true. You are a Jane Eyre,' Mr. Brocklehurst said. 'You must not tell lies. And you must not live here your cousins. You will come Lowood School. You will become a good girl.'

'I want come your school, sir,' I said. 'I want leave this house.'

'Bad girls are punished my school, Jane Eyre,' Mr. Brocklehurst said. 'The girls work very hard Lowood.'