RANKING AND COMPARISON

The graph below shows the types of transport used by tourists who visited New Zealand from five countries in 2004.

The bar chart illustrates information about the number/ proportion of people from five countries who chose/ choosing different means of transport when they visited/ visiting New Zealand in 2004.

In general/ generally, as can/ as it can be seen from the graph, travelling by car was the most popular among people from almost countries/ almost all countries, with an except/ exception of Japan, whose people preferred air travel the most.

In/ With detail, as for/ with travelling by air and coach, headed/ top the list were Japanese tourists, with rough/ more than 50% for both. Next, British people ranked/ ranking second on/ of the list of car users at roughly 35% although Korean visitors were on/ in second place in terms of travelling by coach, at 40%.

With respect for/ to cars, top on/ of the list was British people, with up to 60% chose/ choosing this means of transportation. In contrast, the figure with/ for the Japanese was bottom/ low of the list, with mere/ a mere 25%. The others ranged between 45 to/ and just over/ higher 50%.

As regards/ regard travelling by ferry, the figure for German tourists came first at/ on the list, although it was noticeable/ noticeably higher as/ in opposed to British, at just under 50% and approximate/ approximately 35% in turn.

LIVEWORKSHEETS