| Complete the words in the sentences with the prefixes ab-, dys-, mal- and mis What meaning do the prefixes share?  1 His was a spent youth, devoted only to pleasurable pastimes and pursuits.  2 It's a terribly functional relationship; I don't know why they're still together.  3 Sadly, children who suffer continued neglect often become adjusted adults.  4 The psychologist was at a loss to explain the patient's errant behaviour.  5 Trauma to the brain led to a(n) normal mental condition in the patient.  6 Our old neighbour was quite the anthrope who avoided all human contact.  Complete the sentences with the words in the correct form.  arouse assert bear breed conduct exert swallow vent  1 Harry is always his anger; he really needs to calm down!  1 Harry is always his anger; he really needs to calm down!  2 They had a disagreement months ago, but Arny still him a grudge.  3 Don't spend all your time with Fred; after all, familiarity contempt.  4 Why don't you just your price and apologise to your friend?  5 The football players themselves appallingly during the return flight.  6 Mike's so-called friends were pressure on him to quit university.  7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity.  8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out.  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate oliventh overjoyed meticulous  3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn  4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious  5 amiable impassive poised serene  6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man!  2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.  3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her A speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  5 The suspect began to feel when the det | Com    | plete the w  | ords in the ser  | ntences with the  | he prefixes ah    | due mal and min What                         |
|---|--------|--|--|-------------------|-------------------|--|
| 2 It's a terribly   | prefi  | xes share?   | oras in the ser  | itelices with the | ne prenxes ab-,   | dys-, mai- and mis What meaning do the       |
| 2 It's a terribly   | 1 Hi   | s was a  | spent  | youth, devoted    | only to pleasurab | le pastimes and pursuits                     |
| 3 Sadly, children who suffer continued neglect often become   | 2 It's | s a terribly _   | fun  | ctional relations | hip; I don't know | why they're still together.                  |
| 4 The psychologist was at a loss to explain the patient's   | 3 Sa   | dly, children  | who suffer cont  | inued neglect o   | ften become       | adjusted adults.                             |
| Trauma to the brain led to a(n)   | 4 Th   | ne psycholog   | ist was at a loss  | to explain the p  | patient's         | errant behaviour.                            |
| Complete the sentences with the words in the correct form.  arouse assert bear breed conduct exert swallow vent  1 Harry is always his anger; he really needs to calm down!  2 They had a disagreement months ago, but Amy still him a grudge.  3 Don't spend all your time with Fred; after all, familiarity contempt.  4 Why don't you just your pride and apologise to your friend?  5 The football players themselves appallingly during the return flight.  6 Mike's so-called friends were pressure on him to quit university.  7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity.  8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out.  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 5 Tra  | auma to the  | brain led to a(n)  | r                 | normal mental con | dition in the patient.                       |
| arouse assert bear breed conduct exert swallow vent  1 Harry is always his anger; he really needs to calm down!  2 They had a disagreement months ago, but Amy still him a grudge.  3 Don't spend all your time with Fred; after all, familiarity contempt.  4 Why don't you just your pride and apologise to your friend?  5 The football players themselves appallingly during the return flight.  6 Mike's so-called friends were pressure on him to quit university.  7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity.  8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out.  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.  3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her  4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 6 0    | ur old neighl  | oour was quite t   | he                | anthrope who a    | voided all human contact.                    |
| arouse assert bear breed conduct exert swallow vent  1 Harry is always his anger; he really needs to calm down!  2 They had a disagreement months ago, but Amy still him a grudge.  3 Don't spend all your time with Fred; after all, familiarity contempt.  4 Why don't you just your pride and apologise to your friend?  5 The football players themselves appallingly during the return flight.  6 Mike's so-called friends were pressure on him to quit university.  7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity.  8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out.  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| 1 Harry is always his anger; he really needs to calm down! 2 They had a disagreement months ago, but Amy still him a grudge. 3 Don't spend all your time with Fred; after all, familiarity contempt. 4 Why don't you just your pride and apologise to your friend? 5 The football players themselves appallingly during the return flight. 6 Mike's so-called friends were pressure on him to quit university. 7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity. 8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out. 1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty, had-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her and speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.  |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| 2 They had a disagreement months ago, but Amy still bim a grudge. 3 Don't spend all your time with Fred; after all, familiarity contempt. 4 Why don't you just your pride and apologise to your friend? 5 The football players themselves appallingly during the return flight. 6 Mike's so-called friends were pressure on him to quit university. 7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity. 8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out. 1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| 3 Don't spend all your time with Fred; after all, familiarity contempt. 4 Why don't you just your pride and apologise to your friend? 5 The football players themselves appallingly during the return flight. 6 Mike's so-called friends were pressure on him to quit university. 7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity. 8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out. 1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| 4 Why don't you just The football players The football players Mike's so-called friends were Whenever we have visitors, it Vanessa began to  Circle the odd ones out.  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| themselves appallingly during the return flight.  Mike's so-called friends were Whenever we have visitors, it Vanessa began to  Circle the odd ones out.  adamant cynical inflexible obstinate leading jubilant overjoyed meticulous apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious amiable impassive poised serene leading eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.  Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| 6 Mike's so-called friends were 7 Whenever we have visitors, it 8 Vanessa began to  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her 4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   |        |  | A COUNTY OF THE PARTY OF THE PA |                   |                   |  |
| 7 Whenever we have visitors, it our nosy neighbour's curiosity. 8 Vanessa began to ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out. 1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her 4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   |        | The second secon | D. M. Control  | then              |                   |  |
| 8 Vanessa began to  ner independence once she turned 18.  Circle the odd ones out.  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her 4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.  |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| Circle the odd ones out.  1 adamant cynical inflexible obstinate 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.  |        |  |  | has lad           |                   |  |
| 2 elated jubilant overjoyed meticulous 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her 4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.  |        |  | l ones out.  |                   |                   |  |
| 3 apathetic dispassionate uneasy withdrawn 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her 4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 1 a    | damant   | cynical  | inflexible        | obstinate         |  |
| 4 compulsive neurotic obsessive obnoxious 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below. 1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man! 2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming. 3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her 4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.  |        |  | jubilant   | overjoyed         | meticulous        |  |
| 5 amiable impassive poised serene 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man!  2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.  3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her  4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 3 a    | pathetic   | dispassionate  | uneasy            | withdrawn         |  |
| 6 eloquent principled scrupulous upright  Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man!  2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.  3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her  4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 4 c    | ompulsive  | neurotic   | obsessive         | obnoxious         |  |
| Use the odd words out in C to complete the sentences below.  1 He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man!  2 It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.  3 Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her  4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.  5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 5 a    | miable   | impassive  | poised            | serene            |  |
| <ol> <li>He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man!</li> <li>It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.</li> <li>Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her</li> <li>An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.</li> <li>The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.</li> </ol>  | 6 e    | loquent  | principled   | scrupulous        | upright           |  |
| <ol> <li>He'll never change; he'll always be a nasty,, bad-tempered, little man!</li> <li>It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.</li> <li>Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her</li> <li>An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.</li> <li>The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.</li> </ol>  | Use    | the odd v  | vords out in (   | to complete       | e the sentence    | s below.                                     |
| <ul> <li>It's a pleasure to be in her company as she is always so and welcoming.</li> <li>Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her</li> <li>An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.</li> <li>The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.</li> </ul>   |        |  |  |                   |                   |  |
| <ul> <li>Madge had become in her old age and was distrustful of my motive for helping her</li> <li>An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years.</li> <li>The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.</li> </ul>  | 2 lt   | 's a pleasur   | e to be in her   | company as sk     | oo is always so   | , bad-tempered, little man:                  |
| 4 An speaker, the prime minister had won many battles in parliament over the years. 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 3 N    | Aadge had  | hecome   | in har            | old age and       | and welcoming.                               |
| 5 The suspect began to feel when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | 4 1    | nauge nau  | enal-  | in ner            | old age and wa    | is distrustful of my motive for helping her. |
| when the detective mentioned a CCTV camera.   | FT     | ha array   | speaker,   | ule prime min     | ister had won m   | any pattles in parliament over the years.    |
|   | 2      | ne suspect   | began to feel  |                   | when the detec    | tive mentioned a CCTV camera.                |