

Three little pigs

Group 4

The wolf races after the little pig. He leaps up onto the roof of the brick house.

“I’ll get you!” he roars, and he climbs down the chimney. But the little pig puts a pot of water onto the fire. The wolf falls down the chimney and into the pot. The little pig slams the lid on the wolf’s head! Nobody ever sees the wolf again.

And the third little pig lives happily in his brick house.
