4: French Croque Monsieur

America has a fantastic, simple sandwich called the grilled cheese sandwich. You put cheese between two pieces of bread, cook it in a pan, and eat when the cheese melts.

In France, they make something similar, but not so easy. This is the French croque monsieur /crok mos sur/. They mix the butter with parmesan cheese and butter. They fill the sandwich with cheese and sliced ham.

Finally, they spread the butter, cheese, and egg on top of the bread. They cook it in the oven. Wow! Very cheesy, but not easy!
