MY SUMMER: AN ADVENTURE WITH MY FAMILY

Today I am writing to share with all my classmates a wonderful weekend I spent with my best friend, Sarah, and my family: my brother, my mother and my aunt. One day, before the beginning of the summer Sarah told me about a nice river near the north of Spain. The problem was that all around the river it was ONLY FOREST! No hotels or a bus station. She explained me that the habitat of that place is very important and cannot be damaged by the creation of cities. Because my brother, Sam, loves nature, we decided to celebrate his birthday in August there. And we prepared everything to go camping. Sam was very excited.

After arriving by car and walking for four hours we finally discovered the river. The landscape was SO beautiful. Nature in the forest is more beautiful than in the city. Then, we put the tent near the river to enjoy the views in the morning. When we were taking dinner near a fire, the weather started to change. It started to rain! In the beginning, we don't care, but the rain became stronger and wetter. In the end, we tried to get into the tent...but it was destroyed because of the wind. It became a nightmare! My aunt said to go back to the car or look for a safe place. So we started walking, but we forgot the map in the tent!

My brother, who is the most intelligent boy ever, had a compass in his pocket. So we could go back to the car. The funniest thing is that the rain stopped when we got into the car. At that moment I laughed more than in my entire life.

The rest of the weekend was better than the first night. We took another tent that my aunt had in her car and we spent the whole day eating the birthday cake, fishing, playing badminton and taking photos.

I really recommend going camping, but remember! Respect nature!
