Types of plants (II) 3º

Choose the right answer

Trees have got a flexible stem.

Trees have got a woody stem, called trunk.

Bushes have got a trunk.

Bushes have a lot of woody stems.

Trees have got branches.

Trees have not got branches.

The branches on a bush grow near the ground

The branches on a bush grow high high above the ground.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Grasses have got a woody stem, called trunk.

Grasses have a flexible, green stem.

Grasses are usually short and grow quickly.

Grasses are usually tall and grow slowly.

Trees are usually tall and grow slowly.

Trees are usually short and grow quickly.

A pine tree is an evergreen tree.

A pine tree is a deciduous tree.

A chestnut tree is an evergreen tree.

A chestnut tree is a deciduous tree.

LIVEWORKSHEETS