Zero & 1st Cond. BBC

1 Answer the Questions!

00:00 - 05:58
https://app.twee.com/m/OfLPkz2YNRPs

1 What is the purpose of the zero conditional?

a To talk about possible future situations.

b To describe general situations that are true for everyone.

c To discuss facts and truths.

d To compare different conditionals.

2 According to the video, what happens if you drop an apple?

a It disappears.

b It floats in the air.

c It falls to the ground.

d It turns into a banana.

3 How does the first conditional differ from the zero conditional?

a The first conditional is used to talk about facts and truths.

b The first conditional is used to describe general situations.

c The first conditional is used to discuss possible future situations.

d The first conditional is used to compare different conditionals.

4 When should you use the zero conditional?

a When talking about specific situations.

b When describing possibilities.

c When discussing facts and truths.

d When comparing conditionals.

5 Which sentence is grammatically correct?

a When we're older, we'll go travelling.

b If plants don't get water, they die.

c If I fail my exams again, I feel terrible.

d If they will leave now, they'll be home for lunch.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

6 What does the use of "will" in the first conditional indicate?

a Certainty about the result.

b Uncertainty about the result.

c Past tense.

d Present tense.

7 According to the video, how can you choose between the zero and first conditional?

a By using the zero conditional for general situations and the first conditional for specific situations.

b By using the first conditional for general situations and the zero conditional for specific situations.

c By using the zero conditional for possibilities and the first conditional for facts and truths.

d By using the first conditional for possibilities and the zero conditional for facts and truths.

8 What is the top tip given in the video?

a Use "will" in the if part of the first conditional.

b Use present simple without "will" in the if part of the first conditional.

c Use "might" instead of "will" in the first conditional.

d Use present perfect in the zero conditional.

LIVEWORKSHEETS