Dear Diary,

I'm very nervous about tomorrow – my first day at high school. All my friends go to the same school too, so that's a good thing. But there are also many new things, so I'm a little scared.

First of all, compared to my middle school, my new school is very big! I think I'll get lost on the first day and maybe, just maybe, find my way back home after a week – LOL. Anyway ... the school has a great performing arts programme, so there is a theatre there, as well as a huge gym, two sports fields and an indoor court which can be used for basketball and volleyball. Yay!!!

 There are also after-school clubs and workshops like the science clubs, the school choir, band, cheerleading, book clubs etc, etc.. There are actual classes too of course (Ughh!!)

Last year, I had problems with Maths and French, so I hope that Grade 9 goes better for me.

Then there are all the new classes, like Technology and Business. I'm scared because I want to make my parents proud.

Wish me luck!!!
