

READING COMPREHENSION

1. Read the text and answer the questions

When Juan stopped to buy a lottery ticket last week, he didn't have a job or enough money to pay the bills. There were his last few coins. He picked seven numbers, and then asked another customer to pick the last number. "I'll never win, anyway," he thought. But he was wrong - he won $1.2 million!

First of all, he paid all his bills and then he went to buy two - yes, two - really, really expensive cars. But Juan isn't going to drive them - he never learned to drive because he didn't have enough money to buy a car before. He bought them for his children, Carla and Paolo.

Winning the lottery isn't going to change Juan. He and his wife aren't going to spend their money without thinking. First, they are going to buy homes for their children, and then they are going to take a long vacation in America. After that, Juan is going to start an organization to help people without jobs because he was also unemployed and knows how hard it is.
