The use of ‘bring’, ‘take’, and ‘fetch’

Examples: My mother takes me to the market.

Please bring me my glasses.

Do you have to fetch your sister from school?

The above words ‘takes’, ‘bring’ and ‘fetch’ are verbs. The use of these verbs depends on the place from which the action is viewed.

‘Take’ is away from the place.

‘Bring’ is towards the place.

‘Fetch’ is away and back to the place.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

A. Write the correct verb “fetch, bring or take” in each blank.

1. Please _____ the scissors from my bedroom.

2. They _____ the prisoner before the judge.

3. He _____ her arm and leads her across the road.

4. Please _____ the curtains back to the shop because they are the wrong size.

5. The soldier’s brave deeds _____ honour and glory to his family.

6. Every day, Mrs Lim goes to the market and _____ fresh vegetables for dinner.

7. Buying a house as big as that _____ a lot of money.

8. That man is dying. Run and _____ the doctor!

9. He has forgotten to _____ his bag with him.

10. The princess _____ the title of queen when she marries the king.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

11. You can't expect me to _____ and carry for you all day.

12. Nurse, _____ this man to the operating theatre, please.

13. You can _____ a horse to water but you can't make him drink.

14. _____ me the book, please.

15. I'm very thirsty. Can you _____ me a glass of water?

16. _____ the trousers to the changing room and see if they fit.

17. You _____ tears to my eyes with the beauty of your music.

18. Every morning I open the window and _____ a breath of fresh air.

19. If you _____ your books to my house we can read them together.

20. Please _____ me a clean towel from the cupboard.

LIVEWORKSHEETS