Unit 6 TB page 77 53

Presenter Today we're talking about . Lee Masters is a at London Zoo. Lee, can you us about some endangered ?

Lee Well, the Giant is the most endangered species. The Giant Panda is a . It's black and white and it's between 150 and centimetres long.

Presenter 1.8 metres?

Lee Yes, the panda is a big . It between 80 and kilograms. That's the same as . Pandas live in and in China. The main to the panda is .

Presenter I see. What about endangered ?

Lee Well, the Great Green Macaw is one of an endangered bird. It's between 85 and 90 centimetres .

Presenter And what's its ?

Lee It about one kilogram.

Presenter One kilogram? That's quite .

Lee Yes, it's a big bird. The Great Green Macaw is also endangered because of loss of habitat. It lives in , but people are cutting down the trees.

Presenter That's sad.

Lee: Yes. Another is that people animals for food or . Like the Southern Bluefin Tuna. The Bluefin Tuna is a large fish. It is up to centimetres long.

Presenter Wow! 430 centimetres?!

Lee Yes. It weighs up to 910 kilos, so it's as heavy as three ! The Bluefin Tuna lives in , but because of fishing, there aren't many .

LIVEWORKSHEETS