

1. Not only does Dan avoid eating meat, he also [regimes / eschews / undoes / commits] all animal products.
2. John is a bit of a health [sedentary / rank / freak / curb] and will only eat organically-grown food.
3. The manager will always stand up [to / on / about / for] his employees if there is a problem.
4. I [firmly / comfy / mine / favour] believe in the saying that you are what you eat.
5. Using a screen for [prolonged / aggregated / premature / ranked] periods is harmful to the eyes.
6. To get your money's [worth / perseverance / curb / deadline] out of your weekly bus pass, you need to use it at least four times; otherwise it's cheaper to buy single tickets.
7. A [freak / sustained / committed / regardless] player always does their best for the team.
8. Jack started a new exercise [workplace / internal / productivity / regime] in which he had to run over 10 km every day!
9. Doctors say that a [absenteeism / mortality / lower / sedentary] lifestyle is responsible for the rise in serious illnesses.
10. It will take a [sustained / curb / perseverance / regardless] effort if we want to succeed.
11. Scientists study the [productivity / mortality / hazardous / regime] rate among sufferers of diseases to evaluate how well treatment works.
12. Many fitness regimes seem difficult in the beginning, but if you [sustain / prolong / persevere / undo] with them, they get easier.
13. The company held an [external / absent / internal / eschewed] enquiry in which all employees were questioned.
14. In an attempt to reduce [heart attack / mortality / proportion / absenteeism], the manager insisted on speaking personally to anyone who was missing from work.
15. It's difficult to [refine / hone in on / estimate / forbid] the total cost of the project, but we will need to come up with a figure.
16. The directors want us to make [cuts / estimates / movements / gears] throughout the company, and that could mean job losses.

17. I always keep my tennis [measure / eschew / glucose / gear] in the car, in case I get the chance to play a game.
18. When the sizes of all the parks in the city were [prolonged / premature / aggregated / lowered], they amounted to over 15 square kilometres of green space.
19. We may spend eight hours in the office, but what [absenteeism / measurement / estimate / proportion] of that time is spent doing productive work?
20. The decision to get married was a little [lower / premature / persevere / comfy]; I don't think they were fully ready.