Part 4 : Reading Comprehension (36-45)

Direction: Read the passage and choose the best answer.

How to make gnocchi (36-40)

Classic potato gnocchi is super easy to make. Here are the steps:

    1. Add an egg and some flour to cooled mashed potatoes, mix it together to form a dough (be careful not to overmix), and then cut little pillows out of the dough. You can do this by rolling the dough into a thin log and cutting the log into little sections, or you can roll the dough out to about 1/2 inch thickness and cut it into squares.

    2. If you prefer your gnocchi to have little ridges, you can take the optional step of rolling each pillow over the back of a fork or on a gnocchi board to create a ridged texture. I like adding the ridges (when I have the energy) because the ridges add a bit more surface area which helps the sauce cling to the gnocchi. A third way to add a bit of interest to the shape of your gnocchi is to make a little indentation with your thumb. This creates a little place for sauce to get trapped, and it only takes a few seconds to dent the whole batch!

    3. Once the gnocchi is shaped into little pillows (ridged or not), they just need to be cooked in boiling water until they float to the top, which takes about 2-3 minutes.

    4. Serve the finished gnocchi with your favourite sauce. (I list a few good options further down.

    One of the best things about making gnocchi with leftover mashed potatoes is that it is a great way to use up leftovers and reduce food waste. Plus, making your own gnocchi means you can customize the flavours and experiment with different sauces and toppings.

36 . What is the optional step to create little ridges on the gnocchi?

    1. Rolling the dough out to about 1/2 inch thickness and cutting it into squares.

    2. Making a little indentation with your thumb.

    3. Rolling each pillow over the back of a fork or on a gnocchi board to create a ridged texture.

    4. Adding more flour to the dough to make it thicker.

37. How long does it take to cook the gnocchi in boiling water?

    1. 1-2 minutes   2. 2-3 minutes

    3. 3-4 minutes   4. 4-5 minutes

38. What is one of the advantages of making gnocchi with leftover mashed potatoes?

    1. It is difficult to make.

    2. It requires a lot of ingredients.

    3. It is a great way to use up leftovers and reduce food waste.

    4. It can only be served with one type of sauce.

39. What is the purpose of making a little indentation with your thumb on the gnocchi?

    1. To create a little place for sauce to get trapped

    2. To make the gnocchi look fancier

    3. To make the gnocchi more difficult to cook

    4. None of the above

40. How thick should the dough be rolled out to before cutting into squares?

    1. 1/4 inch thickness   2. 1/2 inch thickness

    3. 3/4 inch thickness   4. 1 inch thickness
