4 ESO — CONNECTORS OF ADDITION

- These connectors add ideas, items, …
- The most common of them is 'and'
  She's nice and clever

Furthermore,… = In addition,… = Plus,… = Besides,… = Moreover
Example: The internet helps people to connect with friends and family, and it is also cheap.
Furthermore, ……
She's nice and clever. Plus, she's the best of friends.

What's more,…
1. Used to express addition for the last element.
2. It reinforces the importance of such last element

Example: Pet pigs are cleaner than dogs. Besides, they do not eat much. Furthermore, they make wonderful walking buddies. What's more, they are fantastic guards. All are advantages!
She's nice and clever. Plus, she's the best of friends. What's more, she lives in a wonderful house by the beach.

Also,…
1. Placed at the beginning of the sentence or before the verb (except for 'to be')

Examples: She is nice and clever. Also, she's good at sports.
= She's nice and clever, She's also good at sports
I love Massive Attack. My brother also loves them.

Too = as well
1. Placed at the end of the sentence.

Examples: I like pop music; I love rock, too / as well

As well as
Examples: As well as pop music, I love rock
= I love pop music as well as rock

Rephrasing. Rewrite the sentences with the elements given. Remember punctuation is important.

1. It's a nice day for a walk. I need the exercise (besides).
   It's a nice day for a walk.

2. Their team has got the best players. Their coach is fantastic (moreover)
   Their team has got the best players.

3. Their team has got the best players. Their coach is fantastic (too)
   Their team has got the best players.

4. Their team has got the best players. Their coach is fantastic (as well as)
   a. Their team has got the best players b.

5. The service at this restaurant is great. The food is excellent (in addition)
   The service at this restaurant is great.

6. Anna is talented at music and she's talented at art. (as well as)
   Anna is talented at music

7. Kay is one of the most popular boys in the school. He is sporty and intelligent. He is nice to everyone. (Also / What's more)
   Kay is one of the most popular boys in the school.

LIVEWORKSHEETS