B Grammar

B1 Comparative and superlative adjectives

Comparing two people or things:

Hits! is smaller than Buzz.

We make comparative and superlative adjectives like this:

Comparing more than two people or things:

Buzz is the most expensive (magazine).

Hits! is the least expensive (magazine).

adjective	comparative	superlative
one syllable:
long	+ -er → longer	+ -est → the longest
ending in -e nice	+ -r → nicer	+ -st → the nicest
ending in one vowel + -b, -d, -g, -n, -p or -t big	double the last letter + -er → bigger	double the last letter + -est → the biggest two syllables:
famous	+ more → more famous	+ the most → the most famous
ending in -y dirty	-y and + -ier → dirtier	-y and + -iest → the dirtiest
three syllables:
popular	+ more → more popular	+ the most → the most popular

⚠ Some adjectives are irregular:

good → better → the best, bad → worse → the worst, far → further → the furthest

His latest song is better than his last one. He's the best singer in the band.

This magazine is worse than that one. It's the worst magazine I've ever read.

We also use (not) as... as and less ... than to compare things:

Buzz isn't as popular as Hits! or Buzz is less popular than Hits! (= Hits! is more popular than Buzz.)

When two things are the same, we say:

Buzz is as popular as Hits!

▶ more	Hits! is more colourful than Buzz.
◀ less	Buzz isn't as/so colourful as Hits! / Buzz is less colourful than Hits!
= the same	Buzz is as colourful as Hits!
▲ the most	Smash is the most interesting magazine.
▼ the least	Buzz is the least interesting magazine.

-C1 and C2

B2 Comparative and superlative adverbs

Sometimes we compare how we do something:

You can read Hits! more easily than Buzz.

The Smash journalists write better than some national journalists.

Adverbs ending in -ly form comparatives and superlatives like this:

adverb	comparative	superlative
slowly	more slowly	the most slowly
beautifully	more beautifully	the most beautifully
easily	more easily	the most easily

Other adverbs form comparatives and superlatives like short adjectives:

hard → harder → hardest

My sister works harder than I do but Alex works the hardest.

Some adverbs are irregular:

well → better → the best, badly → worse → the worst

I play the guitar well. Rob plays the guitar better than me. Rob plays lots of instruments but he plays the guitar the best.

▲ We don't use superlative adverbs very often.

-C3

B3 Comparing nouns

We use more/the most to compare both countable and uncountable nouns:

Smash has more reviews than Hits!

Hits! has the most adverts.

Smash contains the most information.

We use fewer / the fewest to compare countable nouns:

There are fewer adverts in Smash than in Hits!

Hits! has the fewest posters.

We use less / the least to compare uncountable nouns:

There's less rubbish in Smash than in Buzz.

Smash contains the least rubbish.
