

Directions: Listen to the audio as many times as you need to, and then fill in the blanks.

April 2023, the Japanese government will 1 million yen per child — around $7,600 — to families that _____ of Tokyo. The _____ is an increase from the 300,000 yen in relocation _____ support that's currently _____. The _____ comes _____ a maximum 3 million yen — or $23,000 — already available as relocation _____. A family with two children could receive _____ 5 million yen, or $38,000.

_____ will be offered to people who _____ live in one of the 23 wards of Tokyo, or those who _____ there from _____ such as Saitama, Chiba and Kanagawa prefectures. To _____ the payments, _____ should move to one of the _____ outside Tokyo _____. In the program, although some _____ areas in Tokyo are also _____. Around 1,300 municipalities are currently participating, which is about 80% of the _____ number of municipalities in Japan.

_____ must be _____ 18 years of age, or if 18, currently in their _____ year of high school. And _____ must have some _____ of _____, _____ at the location they move to, by _____ _____, or by _____ a new _____. A family must also _____ in the new _____ for five years. If they _____ the area before the five years are _____, they will have to _____ the money
_____.

The _____ support program is _____ of government _____ to _____ the population in _____ Tokyo, and bring new _____ to other areas of Japan that _____ low _____ and _____ populations. In December, the government _____ details of its "Digital Garden City Nation" plan, which _____ to _____ people to these areas by _____ access to high-speed internet and providing other _____ such as self-_____ buses and remote _____ care. Currently, about 100,000 people move from _____ areas to Tokyo every year. However, the government _____ that by 2027, a _____ total of 10,000 people a year will _____ from Tokyo to rural areas _____.