

Adjectives & Infinitives

1. Join the halves of the sentences:

It was so kind of you

She can play chess well. She is very proud

He is very clever student. He is very likely

The weather was so nice, I was very happy

This riddle was interesting. It was very easy

I was wrong

I can play the piano but it's difficult for me

Jane was very happy

I bought some flour and vanilla. I am ready

We were sad

to think that this is impossible.

to make a cake.

to win this chess competition.

to pass her exam.

to help me.

to play the violin.

to solve it.

to miss our train.

to go to Harvard.

to go to the beach.

2. Change the sentences using adjective+infinitive

0. We are happy that we see you here.

We are happy to see you here.

1. She is very happy that she can help her friends.

2. Katy is happy that she got a present.

3. We were glad that we received a letter.

4. He was sad that he received such news.

5. She was afraid because she saw a spider.

6. John was disappointed that he failed the exam.

7. It is important that you learn English.

8. It was kind that you helped us.

9. It was kind that she helped us.

10. She was sorry that she forgot her homework.

11. Mary is lucky that she won a lottery.

12. We are ready. We can go camping.

13. Kathy is sorry that she disturbed her friends.

14. It is likely that it will rain tomorrow.

15. Mary is certain that she will win the competition.

16. It is important that you will finish this project.

17. It is likely that she will go to Harvard.