8. Read and write T for True, F for False.

(Katy goes to an international school. She's on a phone call with her mother…).

- Hi, Mom. You call me?
- Yes. Where are you, daughter?
- Oh, I am in my classroom. We have a special class today.
- You go to school on Saturday? Interesting! What are you doing in that class?
- Oh, everything. We help each other with all the subjects. I am doing Math exercises with Rose. She thinks Math is hard, so I help her.
- That's very nice, Katy. What else are you guys doing?
- Some of my friends, Justin and Selena, are doing English homework. Messi and Sam are reading books. Taylor needs help with her Science exercises, so I will come to her later.
- Do you study Art today? Art is your favorite subject.
- Yes, of course! Putin is coloring a picture in the art room. I want to color my picture, too, after we finish with Math and Science.
- Great! Do you come back home for lunch?
- Hmmm… We are thinking about eating hamburgers in the canteen. What do you have for lunch, Mom?
- Your grandma is making some pancakes and beef noodles in the kitchen. I'm in the kitchen, too… I'm doing some cleaning.
- I love beef noodles! I will be home soon then. See you, Mom!
- Alright. Have fun in class, dear! Bye!
