

- 1. Graffiti
- 2. Identity Theft
- 3. Inciting Violence
- 4. Internet Piracy
- 5. Jaywalking
- 6. Littering
- 7. Pollution Crimes
- 8. Shoplifting
- 9. Spreading Computer Viruses
- 10. Tax Evasion

Look at different comments and match them

A: Generally, people who intend to do graffiti are considered members of gangs, but in other countries, this is considered a popular expression of art and culture.

A: It's not only through internet pages and shopping online, but as a rule, I would say just by going shopping or paying for gas you can be exposed as a target of identity theft.

A: It's not very common but in most cases, soccer games and protests are the most common situation in which different people have been accused of inciting violence.

A: In Guatemala, jaywalking is something that you see nine times out of ten on streets, people just don't realize how dangerous this is.

B: The first thing that comes to mind when you say that is when in a restaurant they don't bring a terminal with them and they take your card to another place to charge you.

B: In a similar case is when people ride four on a bike and they don't wear helmets

B: it is something to discuss. Such as the paintings in zone one can't be called cultural expressions. Don't you think so?

B: That soccer match when someone was murdered by fans is a good illustration of it.

Expressions for generalizations

Expressions to give examples

In a similar case is a good illustrations of it.

Such as

as a rule I would say

nine times out of ten

The first thing that comes to mind

Generally

in most cases