

Relative pronouns - omission of the pronoun

A. Choose the best option. Sometimes the pronoun can be omitted: (who)/(which)/(that)...

1. What's the name of the man _____ lives in that house?
2. Everybody _____ went to the concert enjoyed it very much.
3. Where is the photo _____ was on that shelf?
4. My English teacher always asks me questions _____ are difficult to answer.
5. The film _____ we saw was very interesting and thrilling.
6. I loved the cakes _____ they sell in the charity sale.
7. I usually hand out meals _____ I help to cook in the local soup kitchen.
8. Volunteers usually take the bus _____ goes to the city centre.
9. The old man _____ I was talking to at the charity sale is my neighbour.
10. She forgot the tickets _____ she had placed on top of the fridge.
11. Mrs Brown, _____ lives in a tiny village, is a volunteer at the hospital.
12. Robert helped to build the house _____ is now a shelter for the homeless.
13. Have you seen the books _____ came yesterday?
14. Mary works for a company _____ donated a big container full of clothes.

B. Join the sentences with who or which. Put the relative pronoun in brackets when it can be omitted. Follow the example.

1. I'm wearing new trainers. They are very comfortable.

The new trainers (which) I'm wearing are very comfortable.

2. The parents are organizing a charity sale. It will take place next weekend.

The parents are organizing a charity sale _____.

3. A man phoned. He didn't say his name.

The man _____.

4. I've bought a new wallet. It is black with a blue stripe.

I've just bought new wallet _____.

5. Sarah is wearing a sweater. I like it.

Sarah is wearing a sweater _____.