

New Home, Food and Friend

Once upon a time, there were two best friends named Tamin and Sarip. They¹ worked together in a small farm in a village. Every time after lunch, they² had a nap under a tree.

One day, Sarip had a stomachache. He³ told Tamin to go to the farm and he⁴ would come later, Tamin agreed and did his⁵ work alone on the farm. Sarip felt so hungry that he⁶ ate all the food. Then he went to sleep until sunset.

The next morning, Sarip had a stomachache again. He¹¹ felt so lazy and very hungry. He¹² told Tamin to go to the farm alone. After Tamin had left, Sarip ate all the food and slept until sunset. For the next few days, Sarip felt very lazy. Tamin was wondering why Sarip behaved so strangely. He¹³ was worried about him¹⁴.

"Sarip is a good friend. He¹⁵ was never lazy before. There is something wrong with Sarip." Tamin thought.

"Ah! I¹⁶ have an idea! What if I don't go to the farm tomorrow and see what Sarip will do at home," Tamin thought.

Early the next morning, Tamin woke up and cooked their¹⁷ lunch. He¹⁸ told Sarip to rest at home. He¹⁹ pretended to go to the farm but instead, he²⁰ climbed up a tree behind their²¹ house. He²² sat down in the tree and waited for what was going to happen.

After a few minutes, Tamin saw Sarip went into the kitchen. Sarip ate all the food greedily. Later on, he²³ saw Sarip walking to the living room. The he²⁴ lied down to sleep. Tamin thought that Sarip was just too lazy to go to work.

Suddenly, to his²⁵ surprise, Tamin saw a snake coming out from Sarip's mouth while he²⁶ was sleeping soundly. The snake was singing and dancing happily. Tamin was shocked and quickly came down from the tree. He²⁷ took his parang and rushed to the house. He gripped it²⁸ head.

"Why do you²⁹ do this to my³⁰ friend?" Tamin asked the snake.

The snake answered "I³¹ have no home, no food and no friend, so I entered Sarip's body when he³² was sleeping under the tree the last few days. From that day, I've had a new home, food and friend."

"I³³ won't forgive you³⁴," Tamin replied.

Tamin killed the snake. Then Sarip woke up and asked him³⁵ what had happened. Tamin told him the whole story.

"Thank you very much, Tamin. You³⁶ saved my³⁷ life!" said Sarip.

"Not at all! We³⁸ are best friends," Tamin replied.
