In this week's 'Now You' interview, we're talking to Nancy, a graduate from Penn University. Nancy recently got a surprising invitation, and we wanted to find out all about it.

Now You Nancy, thanks for talking to us today. So you're a graduate now?

Nancy Yes! I just graduated from Wenn with a degree in biology. I've been very busy with my studies this past year, but I have big plans for the future.

Now You Congratulations! I hope you're going to celebrate! Now, I'd like to know what your future plans are. Will you tell us?

Nancy Sure! While I was studying in college last semester, I got a call from a scientist named Josh Stilson. He's American, but he works in Trinidad. I was so surprised to hear from him. He's extremely intelligent, and he works on some fascinating projects.

Now You Great! What projects?

Nancy Josh studies turtles in a small village named Grande Rivière. Every year, the turtles go back to the same beach there to have their babies. Isn't that amazing?

Nancy No, I've never been there. I've spent a lot of time looking at websites, though. It's a beautiful place. I'm going to stay in a very small hostel right on the beach. We'll get up very early every morning to start work.

Now You That all sounds very cool, Nancy. Have you already booked your flights?

Nancy No, not yet. So far I've just checked a few websites to look at the fares. There's a lot to do before I go!
