

How to Write a Diary

Features of Diaries

A good diary entry should have:

- Day, date and weather of the entry
 - A heading for the entry you are writing
 - A body about something that you did to make someone feel good or about something that you are thankful for
 - A first-person view
 - Your own point of view and feelings
- And should:

- Usually be written in the past tense for past events
- Usually be written in the simple present tense for habits
- Use the future tense for wishes or upcoming events
